

COPYRIGHT AND REUSE OF DATA

1. The Hellenic Statistical Authority (ELSTAT) encourages the free reuse of its data, both for non-commercial and commercial purposes. The content of web pages, the statistical data, the metadata and the statistical publications and other documents published on ELSTAT's website, with the exceptions listed below, can be reused without any payment or written licence, provided that:
 - Their source is indicated.
 - When reuse involves any modification to the data or text, including the translation of text, this is stated clearly to the end user of the information, as well as that ELSTAT bears no responsibility for the result of the modification.

Exceptions

The permission granted above does not cover the following cases:

- Material (photos, illustrations, publications and other documents), whose copyright is identified as belonging wholly or partly to third parties.
 - ELSTAT's logo, unless it is included in a publication or other document redistributed full without having undergone any modification.
2. ELSTAT encourages also the creation of hyperlinks towards its web pages. All links established from other websites towards the website of ELSTAT should indicate to the internet users that they are being directed towards the website www.statistics.gr, mentioning this URL clearly and in full. ELSTAT reserves the right to request the removal of links which it believes to be prejudicial to its image and/or its rights.
 3. ELSTAT assumes no responsibility for the following:
 - The use of the information provided on its website by the users.
 - The websites of other entities, towards which it provides links on its own website, and in particular for the content of those websites.